

VOICES OF MIGRANTS, FOR A CROSS-BRED CIVILIZATION

Migrants cannot be said to be a problem for the receiving countries but rather a great opportunity to build a large cross-bred civilization. The materials kept at the MAMT – letters, pictures, videos, tokens – provides the evidence of what can be described as a tragedy, but also an occasion of coexistence and richness of the diverse cultures. To remember; to hope in a future of dialogue and coope-
